Brite CRN's Top Managed Service Provider 500 for the Fourth Time

Brite named to CRN's 2020 Managed Service Provider 500 Security 100 category

ROCHESTER, NY - February 28, 2020 - Brite, an Upstate New York managed service provider and IT solutions integrator is recognized on CRN's Managed Service Provider 500 list in the Security 100 category.

As a fourth time recipient, the distinction recognizes Brite's continued dedication and forward-thinking approach in providing managed IT services. Focused on combatting resource taxing areas of IT while providing enterprise level security tools, Brite continues to optimize its managed service offering, BriteStar.

Brite's established methodology is a superior combination of people, process and technology prioritizing constant innovation to protect client's infrastructure, data and compliance requirements through proactive alerting and action. BriteStar helps off-load IT services and aid in tactical areas, allowing companies IT departments to focus on strategical projects.

"Brite is honored to be included on CRN's Security 100 list for the fourth time," said Justin Smith, President and COO of Brite. "Brite has been in the IT space for decades. We have seen the evolution of both technology and threats and how tolling daily management can be on organizations. We are excited to continue to evolve BriteStar as a proactive offering that companies can continue to rely on for all IT needs."

Digital transformations, IT skills shortage and ever-changing security threats requires more dedicated IT expertise and focus than ever before. BriteStar allows SMB to outsource tactical IT needs and allows them to focus on strategic initiatives.
